THE LAW'S DELAY.

In a great many counties in this State, and in other States as well, there seems to be a lack of promptness in bringing persons committed on charge of the commission of a crime, to trial, and having the question of their guilt or innocence settled as speedily as possible. Justice to the accused, and justice to the people who pay taxes, demand that criminals shall not loaf and fatten in jail, when by rights they should be either doing the State good service at Waupun, or the city a benefit by working on the streets. An instance, showing how neglectful some officers of justice are, is given by the Waupun Times this week:

A year and a half ago the cigar factory in Waupun was robbed of 5,000 cigars. The cigars were afterwards found in Fond du Lac, and three men arrested for the theft. One of them, Clement, by name, has been lying in jail at Juneau, ever since. At this term of court the District Attorney asked for a continuance of the trial, but the court refused it on the ground that the prisoner had been confined already a year and a half without trial, and that our laws would not permit him to be held any longer. So he was discharged. The question that now recurs is, was the man innocent or was he guilty?

Here is a case wherein the carelessness or the wilful negligence of the District Attorney, cost the county over $500, and at last the man was set scott free, although he was probably guilty. This is not an isolated case. There are many similar ones in the State—cases in which persons who are arrested on charge of crime, are kept in jail month after month, when they should have been promptly tried at the first term of the court after their arrest, and their fate determined. This is the most economical and sensible way to dispose of these persons. If they are guilty they should be convicted and put to work; and if they are innocent, their liberty is due them. Not long ago a young man in Vernon county, charged with burglarizing a store, was kept in jail for nearly one year, at an expense of several hundred dollars, and finally, when the case was called for trial, the District Attorney entered a nolle, and the fellow was discharged. In Rock county there is more promptness in disposing of the criminal cases, and the law's delay does not work an injustice to the tax payers, but in many counties there is a fearful lack of promptness and efficiency among the District Attorneys.

The New York Times quotes some facts submitted to the Government by Mr. Thomas Adamson, the Consul General of the United States for Brazil, regarding our trade with that country. Mr. Adamson shows that Brazil purchases abroad by far the larger part of the food needed for home consumption. Of this the wheaten flour comes mostly from the United States, but our share of the trade is falling off, while that of Uruguay and that of Austria are increasing. This he attributes to carelessness in packing, the barrels in which American flour is packed being lighter and less secure than the Austrian. In the same way, our canned goods and salted and smoke-cured meats are found to be so prepared that they do not so completely withstand the trying Brazilian climate. These are matters to which our exporting merchants can afford to pay prompt and careful attention. During the last fiscal year, closing June 30 1878, our imports from Brazil were, in round numbers, $43,000,000, while our exports were less than $9,000,000. Such a state of things shows an opening which American enterprise ought to be able to take advantage of.

The friends of ex-Senator Carpenter will be gratified that he has espoused the cause of sound money. The Evening Wisconsin, of Thursday makes this mention of him: "The good cause is receiving accessions of strength, not only in the way of numbers, but in men whose sweet voices can sway the minds of the people. It is among the most pleasing events of the hour that ex-Senator Matt. H. Carpenter has left his professional engagements at Washington, and returned to his home in this city, and is now devoting his time and masterly oratorical abilities to the good cause which has become so dear to every patriotic heart. He speaks to-morrow (Friday) evening, at the North Side Turner Hall, on Walnut street, where Mr. Carpenter will address an assemblage of his fellow citizens who will greet him with the more cordiality because he strikes in while the contest is still doubtful."

The Republicans of Janesville should not be slack in their duty next Tuesday. The utmost vigilence should be exercised on that day in watching the polls, and every legitimate effort made to draw out the full vote of the city and the towns in this Assembly District. It won't do to lull in supposed security. Mr. Church, the Democratic-Greenback candidate for the Assembly, is an industrious worker, and will not leave a stone unturned to further his political advancement. He is one of the most successful politicians in the District, and he must be met by a solid vote of the Republicans, to secure if possible, his defeat.

The Evansville Review, of last week gives this interesting bit of political information: Mr. Parker's "man Friday" came up on the cars Saturday to Magnolia Station intending to speak at the corners in the evening, but after waiting until dark and no one called for him, boarded the 7 o'clock freight, mad as a March hare, and steamed it back to Beloit. His audience assembled—some five or six g. b's—and wondered why their speaker did not come, and were told by the tantelizing boys that he was at the depot waiting for them to go after him. The g. b's at Magnolia Corners are scarce.

The other day Mr. Parker's hired man, Stewart, made a speech at Emerald Grove, in which he resorted to the low trick of prejudicing his hearer against Congressman Williams, by stating that in his Beloit speech Mr. Williams ridiculed Mr. Parker's infirmities. When he began to repeat the lie, a German, who had become disgusted with Stewart's talk jumped up and exclaimed: "Mr. Stewart, schtop a leetle. I vant to correct you. That is all a damned lie." The house cheered, and this settled the campiagn lie for that evening.

The political demoralization of Duester, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Milwaukee District, is illustrated by the course he has taken to secure votes. In his own paper, he published a piteous appeal to his German friends to vote for him at all hazards, because he is a German. It can be said Mr. Duester is the first man who ever ran for Congress in this State, who ever stooped so low as to make a personal appeal to his friends to vote for himself. In the scale of political morals, that is getting down to the lowest point.

The Congressional race between the "two Charlies" as illustrated by the cartoon displayed in front of the Gazette office, is a very significant description of the contest. It was drawn by a young man named Scott, at Beloit who promises to gain a wide reputation as a caricaturist. This faithful portrayal of the race between Congressman Williams and Mr. Parker, is richly enjoyed by the multitude.

The Commissioner of Pensions, Hon. J. A. Bentley, has made his annual report, and submitted it to the Secretary of the Interior. The report shows that there are 223,998 persons on the pension list, a reduction of 2,645 from last year. The amount paid out during the past fiscal year to pensioners, was $26,530,792; and of this amount 240,901 was retained by the Pension Bureau to be paid over to pensions agents as fees.

Hon. P. G. Cheyes, of Racine, who was elected to the Legislature last year as a Democrat, has bolted the Democratic-Greenback nominations, and will support the cause of honest money by voting for the Republican candidates. He is following the course of hundreds of others in this District.

A voter in the town of Rock was asked a day or two ago, how politics was in his town, when he answered, "Oh, there bes a good many who belayes that Lovejoy is the bether man, and they'll be after voting for him." "Better than who," he was asked. "Why, a bether man than Williams!"

The President of the United States has designated Thursday, the 28th day of November, as a day of National thanksgiving

Me and the Govornor.

From the Virginia City Chronicle.

There is an ingenious Comstocker who, whenever he goes down to San Francisco, stuffs his valise with empty champagne bottles. He then gets a room at the Palace Hotel for $1.50 a day, and whenever a visitor sends up a card he piles the empty bottles around the door, so as to give the impression that he has just been indulging in an expensive revel. If the visitor makes any remarks about the bottles, he replies: "The Governor and some of his friends were just in, and, of course, I had to set up the wine; but I enjoy a quiet cocktail with a friend much better than all their hollow display. Let's go down and get an old-fashioned drink all to ourselves."

He Resisted the Devil.

From the Richmond Whig.

A colored brother, whose eyes were watery, and who had evidently been imbibing experience whisky, was telling his young friend George that he ought to jine too. Said George "I would but de temptation to do wrong is too strong for me." Whar's yer backbone dat ye can't rouse up and stand temptation?" exclaimed Brother Peter. "I was dat way myself once. Rite in this yere town I had a chance to steal a pair of boots—mighty fine ones, too. Nobody was dar to see me, and I reached out my hand and de debbil said take 'em. Den a good spirit whispered for me to let dem boots alone." "An' you didn't take em?" "No, sah—not much. I took a pa'r o' cheap shoes off de shelf, an' I left dem boots alone!"

Special to the Gazette.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Russian cruisers on American waters have been ordered to prepare for active service. A rehewal of the Russo-Turkish war is considered the only means of making a complete solution of the Eastern question.

DUBLIN, Nov. 1—The Royal College of St. Patrick, one of the greatest Catholic theological seminaries in the world, took fire early this morning, and at noon was still burning, and will be a total loss. It is located at Maynooth 15 miles Northwest from Dublin. Train steamers and fire apparatus were sent out immediately. Great grief is manifested here over the destruction of the college. It was a handsome, costly pile building and was prized for its historic associations. It was founded in 1795, has 12 professorships, 520 students and educated nearly all Catholic priests.

PARIS, Nov. 1.—Louis Antoine Garnier-Pages, the great French politician is dead. He was seventy-three years of age and was a half brother of the famous Etienne Joseph Louis Garnier-Pages.

ANDERSON.

How He Was Paid for "Working Up" Evidence for the Benefit of the Potter Committee.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 31—The Anderson statement in reference to the working up of evidence for the Potter Committee in regard to the Sherman letter agrees exactly with observations which the Republicans made in regard to manipulations in progress at the time. The statement of Anderson that the $1,000 which was sent him really came from Senator Barnum, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, has been investigated by the Republicans, and Anderson's statements found to be correct. The records of the District Telegraph in New York, and the evidence of the messenger who carried the money, being conclusive as to the identity of Senator Barnum. In connection with Sypher, who was acting for Barnum, it is also known here that Judge Morton, who went to Florida for the purpose of manipulating the so-called McLin confession, was also employed and paid by Barnum.

HYMENNIAL.

Important Social Event at Oshkosh, Wis.—Nuptuals of Mr. W. O. Goodman, of Chicago, and Miss Erna W. Sawer, Daughter of the Hon. Philetus Sawyer.

OSHKOSH, Wis., Oct. 31.—The wedding of Miss Erna M. Sawyer, and William Owen Goodman, of Chicago, took place this evening in the presence of the family and a few friends. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. K. C. Anderson, and the happy couple were assisted by the sister of the bride, Miss Emma Sawyer, bridesmaid, and James B. Goodman, best man. The bride is a most beautiful and accomplished young young lady, the centre of a wide circle of friends. She was attired in an elegant white satin dress, trimmed with point lace, diamond jewelry. The bridesmaids wore white gros grain silk. Five young gentlemen officiated as ushers—Philo A. Wilbur, of Chicago; H. G. White, of Syracuse, N. Y.; Joseph S. Mitchell, of Milwaukee, and Tilly Lynde, of Milwaukee. Among the prominent guests present from abroad were Governor Smith and wife of Madison; Senator Howe and wife, Green Bay; Mrs. Judge Lynde, of Milwaukee; Miss Atwood of Madison; James H. Elmore and wife and Col. C. D. Robinson and wife, of Green Bay; William E. Spencer, Chief Clerk of the Senate; H. A. Williston, of Chicago; Miss Emily Campbell, of Chicago; Miss Dutcher, of Milwaukee. The bridal presents were displayed in the billiard room, and completely filled all sides of it. Prominent among them were a silver tea and dinner set, consisting of 300 pieces, from Mrs. Sawyer; a warranty deed of the residence No. 627 Michigan avenue, Chicago valued at $25,000; an oil portrait of herself, and a large bronze statuette from Miss Emma Sawyer; a large set of diamonds from Mr. Goodman; an illustrated edition of "Faust" from Senator Howe; a beautiful pair of woolen blankets from Governor Washburn. Upwards of 1,200 invitations had been issued.

A BOLT.

RACINE, Wis., Oct. 31—The Hon. P. G. Cheeves, a member of the last Legislature of this State from Racine County, refuses longer to be made a tool to help the Greenbackers. In an able letter, occupying two columns of the Racine Journal, he gives his reasons for declining to be carried over into the camp of the fiat money party. Mr. Cheeves is a gentleman of great influence, especially among the farmers of this region, and his decision will have an important bearing on the election next Tuesday. The following is the closing paragraph of his letter:

Now, fellow farmers, do you desire to return again to a depreciated currency, with which our Greenback and Democratic friends propose to treat you? If you do, well vote for the Democrat and Greenback men for the Legislature, and they will give you a soft-money Senator for this State. It is idle for the Democrats to say to us, they have no part or lot with the Greenback party. In our State Legislature last winter thirteen Greenbackers holding the balance of power in the Assembly compelled them to accept their candidate for Speaker. Although the hard money Democrats protested against an alliance, they were voted down in caucus. We now see the same parties favoring alliance everywhere by indorsing the Greenback candidates, again receiving from them the law, which they appear to willingly accept. Now, if this means anything, it means that the Democratic party has been sold out by its leaders and the Greenback party stand ready to take delivery. Will the honest Democrats suffer themselves to be transferred like cattle to the shambles? Or will they, like men, arise and assert their rights by repudiating the entire ticket, and thus showing their unfaithful leaders that, although they have made the sale, they are powerless to make the delivery?

BISHOP WELLES.

The Reception of Bishop Welles, at Milwaukee, Last Evening.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 31.—The reception of Bishop Welles, of this Episcopal Diocese, who had spent the summer in Europe, in the clergy house of All Saints' Cathedral, this evening, was attended by Bishop Brown, of Fond du Lac, and other clergy and laity to the number of 350. Congratulatory speeches by the visiting Bishops, and a feeling response by Bishop Welles, comprised the formalities, after which the courtesies of welcome became general.

DROWNED.

Two Men Capsized on Lake Monona, and Drowned.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31—To-day Henry Niebuher, Henry Baker, and Henry Schuette, well-diggers, attempted to cross Lake Monona in a row boat to reach the farm of G. V. Ott. A heavy wind sprang up, and the boat was capsized. Baker was almost instantly drowned. Schuette clung to the boat half an hour, when his strength gave out, and he went down. Niebuher held out over an hour, and was rescued, but was almost dead when taken ashore. He was soon revived. Baker leaves a wife and seven children, and Schuette leaves a wife and three children. The bodies of Baker and Schuette have not been recovered.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

New Patents Issued to Wisconsin Corporations.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 31—The Secretary of State to-day issued patents to the Tomah and L. S. R. R. Co., capital stock $100,000. The road will be built from Tomah to Unity, connecting at that place with the Wisconsin Central. Also to the Bonza Silver Mining Company, with a capital stock of $500,000. The mines are located in San Juan county, Colorado. The principal office is in Milwaukee.

THE PENSION SERVICE.

Annual Report of the Commissioner of Pensions.

WASHINGTON, October 28.—Hon. J. A. Bentley, Commissioner of Pensions, has completed his annual report to the Secretary of the Interior, showing the operations of the pension service during the fiscal year ended June 30, and making sundry recommendations for the future. The number of claims of all classes filed during the year was 67,509. Of these, 18,812 were original claims for invalid pensions, being more than double the number of the same class filed in either of the four years from 1871 to 1874; 18,240 were for the War of 1812 service, under the act of March 9 1878. About one-eighth of these claims were in behalf of survivors, the remainder were widows' claims; 43,764 claims were settled, at an average cost to the Government of $10.15 per case. The average cost in 1877 was $12.81, and in 1876, $17.11. The saving through the increased efficiency of the office, including the reduction in the salary appropriation of $33 550 in 1877 over 1876, was $183,050, and in 1878 over 1876, including the reduction in the salary fund of $37,800, was $340,172. The number of cases settled in 1877 was 22¼ per cent. greater than in 1876, and in 1878, 50 per cent. greater than in 1876. At the beginning of the year the number of agencies for paying pensions was, by order of the President, reduced from fifty-eight to eighteen, saving in salaries for the year $142,000. The aggregate saving in the bureau for the year in reduced payments for salaries of all descriptions, and reduction in the number of agencies, was $482,-172; adding $180,050 for 1877, the aggregate saving for the two years in these items alone has been $662,222.

On the 30th of June, 1878, there were 223,998 pensioners on the rolls, a reduction of 2,645 during the year. It is expected that the number of pensioners will considerably increase during the current year, on account of the 1812 pensioners. Exclusive of the fees of examining surgeons, and the fees and salaries of pension agents, the amount paid for pensions during the year was $26,530,792. Of this amount, $240,901 was retained from the pensioners and paid to claim agents for their fees.

George Agustus Sala on General Grant.

In one of his lively letters from Paris to to the London Telegraph, George Augustus Sala says: "General Ulysses S. Grant, after an almost royal progress through Europe and the more accessible parts of the East, has returned to Paris, and is naturally the center of interest to his countrymen in the French capital; but, as the General wishes to enjoy a little rest and quiet, the Parisians, with their usual good taste, have refrained from lionizing him over much Americans who 'ought to know,' tell me that the eyes of the people of the United States are turning every day more steadily toward the hero of Vicksburg, as a candidate for the Presidency at the expiration of Mr. Hayes' term of office. In that case, and should General Grant once more be elected Chief Magistrate, an American artist of an imaginative turn might, remembering the legend of Dick Whittington, paint a picture representing Ulysses S. as a young cadet at West Point listening to the steam whistle on the Hudson River Railroad, and constructing the shrill sound into

"'Turn again, U. S. G.,
Turn again, U. S. G.,
Three times President of the United States of America.'

The worst of it is—at least so it appears to English students of American politics—that in the race of American Presidential candidates it is usually a 'dark horse' that is nominated. I do not believe that one educated Englishman in 1,000 had ever heard of Abraham Lincoln when it was announced that the Illinois lawyer and rail-splitter, destined to fill so illustrious a place in the history of his country, was to be run for the presidency; and I suspect that quite as much ignorance prevailed in England touching the merits of Mr. Hayes when that gentleman beat Mr. Tilden.

Marry One.

Though Shaking Like an Aspen Leaf

With the chills and fever, the victim of malaria may still recover by using the celebrated specific, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks, but prevents their recurrence. It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business far more thoroughly, but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system. Testimony is concurrent, positive and ample showing the decisive nature of its effects, and that it is no mere palliative. Physicians concede its excellence, and there is a constant influx of communications from persons in every class of society avouching its merits, and bearing witness to its superiority over other remedies for malarial disease. It is especially popular throughout the West, wherever fever and ague prevails, as it does in many of the fairest and most fertile portions of that vast region. oct25deodw1w

Funerals and Weddings.

New York Graphic.

Certain clergymen at Washington have lately taken occasion to express in a formal way their disapprobation of ostentatious and expensive funerals. In view of the existing hard times, they say that these unnecessary expenditures, always unadvisable, are now little short of criminal. This is a subject upon which the Catholic clergy of the country have frequently expressed the same opinion, and they have done much to check the excess that formerly prevailed; some of the bishops going so far as to arbitrarily limit the number of carriages which should follow a corpse to the grave. The late pope, it will be remembered, left strict orders in his will that his funeral should be a cheap one, and that the monument erected for him should cost but four hundred francs. All this is in the right direction; ostentation and unnecessary displays are always objectionable, but they are particularly out of place at funerals. Very often, too, they involve expenses which the survivors are poorly able to meet, and which entail distress and sometimes dishonor. Still, the natual feeling that impels the lavishing of honor upon the newly dead is very strong and hard to be controlled. Too often the conscience of the survivor smites him for his neglect or wrong of the dead while living, and he wishes to make compensation. "it is the last thing that can be done, let us do it well," is the thought. The clergy of all denominations will do a good work if, without deriding or denouncing this feeling, they can keep it within proper bounds and prevent it from running to excesses.

Another evidence of good sense in avoiding useless expenditures is to be seen in the growing simplicity of our wedding festivals. It is becoming considered in rather bad taste to permit, at the wedding even of our most wealthy people, the profuse displays, either of apparel, jewelry or bridal presents, that were deemed the correct thing a few years ago. A quiet, elegant, and inexpensive wedding is now becoming the rule, in the best circles, rather than the exception.

This is all right and shows a wholesome tendency. We are old enough, as a nation, to have sown or wild oats by this time, and to have settled down into habits of economy, thrift and prudence. The rich can set a good example to the poor by paying a little attention to these matters.

A Sensational Story.

The New York Sun prints a letter from one John Lewis, sent to that paper by one Abraham Swartz, of Brooklyn, neither one of whom can be found in the directories. A letter states that a stone mason boarded at the same house with Lewis the same year that Hell Gate was blown up. The mason worked on the Brooklyn Bridge, and is exceedingly intelligent, talking continually upon the power of dynamite and exclaiming upon the fame that would come to the man who should blow up the Brooklyn bridge. He showed a diagram which came into the possession of Lewis, which the latter believes indicates the location of dynamite with wire connections in the foundations of the bridge. A copy of the diagram is printed. The reporters of The Sun have interviewed the engineers and boss masons of the bridge, and they simply laugh at the idea that any one could place dynamite or copper wires among the granite foundations of the bridge piers. The letter of Lewis mentions the name of Parker or Peterson as being the stone mason, but the rolls of the workmen show no such name. The affair will hardly pass for a plot to blow up the great granite monument of Brooklyn ring peculation, but the story is well told.

Yes, son, yes, yes; go out west and buy a farm. There is no life so independent as that of the honest farmer. Do not be discouraged if the work is a little hard at first. The grasshoppers will eat up all your first planting, but they will devour it so early in the season that you can plant a second time. They won't eat that planting until just about three days before harvest. Then you will have nothing to do all fall and winter and you can put in your full time starving. The next year's crop will be destroyed by constant rains and floods. The third year a drought will burn up everything that has a root or a leaf within ten miles of your farm. The fourth year, however, everything will go well. You will raise a booming crop, get it all in and safely housed, and sit down happy and contented, waiting for the market to rise. Then a prairie fire as big as the butt end of the universe will come along and burn up everything you have in the world except the clothes you have on. Buy a farm? A young man is neglectful of his best interests and most solemn duties who does not buy a farm right away. Hawkeye.

The Profane Parson—A Tale in Five Chapters.

Baltimore Every Saturday.

CHAPTER I.

Once upon a time, in the dark ages of the nineteenth century, there lived a gentleman who held a commission in the army.

CHAPTER II.

But he had serious scruples as to whether it was right or wrong to kill his fellow creatures at the bidding of others, or, in fact, whether it was not a crime to kill his fellow men at all.

CHAPTER III.

He decided that it was wrong, especially the glitter and tinsel thrown about the murderous profession; so he sold his commission and entered the church, thinking that as he was an intelligent man, and not a mere machine, he might do more good to humanity in that line than in any other line.

CHAPTER IV.

One day discoursing to a rustic congregation on the folly of using profane language, he told them that he himself was once guilty of the same folly, and addicted to the same vice, but that he had completely conquered the habit.

CHAPTER V.

A flying insect, hearing the boast, winked his eye at the congregation, and thought, "I'll put him to the test." So making a circuit of the gentleman's head, he lit upon his nose.

"See!" said the reverend gentleman, "here is an illustration. At one time I would have sworn awfully at this fly—but, look, now." Raising his hand he said gently, "Go away, little fly, go away!" but the fly only tickled his nose the more.

The reverend gentleman, raising his hand with some vehemence, made a grab at the offender, and being successful, opened it to throw the insect from him, whee, in extreme disgust, he exclaimed, "Why, —— it, it's a wasp!"

Horror of the rustic congregation, failure of the illustration, and

CATARRH

THE EYE, EAR and THROAT

Successfully Treated with

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SUCCESS is the test of merit, and success in the treatment of Catarrhal Affections, after so many miserable failures, means undoubted specific curative properties in the remedy used. Does SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE for Catarrh possess such properties? The evidence, in the shape of unsolicited testimonials from the most respectable people in all stations of life, must be conclusive on this point. Never, we believe, in the history of popular medicines has such valuable testimony been offered, freely offered, in favor of any remedy than that in the possession of the proprietors of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. And valuable as it is, it does not represent a thousandth part of the recommendations which are to-day offered by friends to friends in its favor. People of wealth and refinement in all parts of the country daily admit its superiority over any method of cure known to the regular medical profession, but shun the publicity incidental to a published statement. Hence the testimonials in our possession represent but a small part of those withheld for the reason mentioned. The following unsolicited testimonial from HENRY WELLS, ESQ., of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, is an outspoken indorsement of which we are justly proud.

INVALUABLE.

Messrs. WEEKS & POTTER, Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.: Gentlemen,—I have for some months felt it a duty that I owe to suffering humanity to write you, stating the great benefit that I have derived from the use of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH. For more than 20 years I have been afflicted with this very troublesome complaint. I have tried all the remedies that I could find, but without material or permanent benefit. Last fall the disease had arrived at that state that I must have relief or die. The entire membranous system had become so inflamed, and the stomach so disordered, that it was a doubtful matter whether I could go to the Pacific coast, or if I did go whether I should live to come back or not. I saw an advertisement of this medicine, and although being very incredulous about specifics or nostrums of any kind, yet in sheer desperation I tried this, and was at once benefited by it. The changes of climate, a chronic disease of the liver, and my age—over 70—may prevent my entire restoration, but the benefit I derive from its daily use is to me invaluable, and I am hoping to be completely cured, and at last arrive at a respectable old age.

If this statement of my case can be of any service to those afflicted as I have been, and enable you to bring this remedy into more general use, especially on the Pacific coast (where it is much needed), my object in writing this note will be obtained.

Very truly yours, HENRY WELLS,
AURORA, N. Y., June, 1876. of Wells, Fargo & Co.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for use in all cases. Price $1.00. For sale by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

LIVER.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice' not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

S. S. PRENTISS' LAST DUEL.

Courier Journal.

Sargent S. Prentiss had won a world-wide reputation in Mississippi as an orator and a lawyer. His two duels with Governor Henry S. Foote, in 1863, in which he was both times challenged, and each time wounded his adversary, had established his reputation for courage. The witchery of his eloquence surpassed any living orator of his time, or, indeed, any that had preceeded him, from Patrick Henry down to the present day.

He first came to Natchez, Mississippi, in 1827, and was employed as tutor in the private family of the widow of the late Judge Shields, of the supreme court of that State, and availed, himself of the fine library of that noted jurist. Although a native of the State of Maine, Prentiss had none of the prejudices of his people, and readily adapted himself to Southern customs and institutions. In 1829 he was admitted to the bar, and formed a law partnership with General Felix Huston at Natchez. In 1831 he removed to Vicksburg, but frequently visited his old home in Natchez. The writer first met Mr. Prentiss at Natchez after his wonderful defense of Dr. Wilkinson, of Mississippi, in 1839, for the killing of Rothwell and Meeks in the celebrated tragedy at the House in Louisville Kentucky, on which occasion he was associated with the distinguished Judge Rowan.

His argument on that occasion was considered his great masterpiece of forensic eloquence, and which resulted in the acquittal of Dr. Wilkinson, although the best talent of the State of Kentucky was employed for the prosecution. His repartee, sprightliness of wit and withering sarcasm were unsurpassed. The result of his power lay in his wonderful application and adaptation of classical, historical and poetical quotations with which he adorned and illustrated his speeches and arguments.

Mr. Prentiss was small in stature, not being over five feet eight inches in height, and was deformed by his right foot being smaller than the left one, and which turned under, so that he used a cane in walking. He had a massive cliff forehead, large blue eyes, handsome features, with a remarkable intellectual expression, in which nobleness, daring and magnanimity were singularly combined. He had a slight lisp, which gave to certain words a hissing sound, and the expression of his features gave great force to his language. In those days there were more wealth, aristocracy and cultivated refinement with, in a circumference of 20 miles around Natchez than in any other portion of the State. During the time Prentiss was teaching in the family of Mrs. Shields he was invited to a neighborhood party, and being a total stranger, and at that time extremely sensitive as to his deformity, he felt himself neglected and looked down upon by the aristocratic planters and fair ladies, and unjustly attributed the cause to his being a poor, lame school master. From that time he secluded himself from all society and wholly devoted himself to his books and studies, having resolved to himself that he would, to use his own language, "one day bring these people to his feet." In relating this incident to the writer, he said it was to the mortification he felt on that occasion that he owed his future success.

During one of Mr. Prentiss' visits to Natchez, the writer, who had then just been admitted to the bar, took a stroll with him to the Natchez Bluff, which is some 300 feet above the level of the river, and from its long reach commanded a fine view. A glorious sunset, with its crimson hues, was melting on the western sky, and sprinkling the fleecy clouds with the golden splendor of its rays, when Prentiss broke forth into a rapturous improvisation in which the exquisite beauty of his language was only equalled by the gorgeous brilliancy of the scene before us. When he had finished, supposing that he had been quoting from some author, the writer asked where the supposed quotation was from? Tapping his forehead with his fingers, he said, "From here, I never heard it before."

In 1844 Mr. Prentiss moved to New Orleans (where the writer had preceded him) and formed a partnership with his old confrere, General Huston. In January, 1848, he was employed in a suit against James Irwin, the son-in-law of Henry Clay, to set aside certain deeds of trust made by James Irwin to his brother Andrew, who lived in Tennessee, on the ground of fraud. Randall Hunt, one of the ablest advocates at the bar, was retained to defend Mr. Irwin. The case occupied three days in taking the testimony being closed the court adjourned until next day for the argument of the case. There was a great deal of feeling on both sides, and no little clashing and sparring between the counsel. As they were going down the court-house steps, the writer being behind them, Hunt observed with a pompous, confident air, "Well, Prentiss, I rather think you have got an alligator case to handle." "Yes," replied Prentiss, with his hissing lip, "it is an alligator case, Hunt, and I am going to skin him to-morrow." And he kept his word. The next day the court room was crowded to its utmost capacity. Mr. Prentiss, in summing up and commenting on the evidence before the jury, dealt in bursts of scathing, withering reflections on the conduct of the defendant. "Why, gentlemen," said he, "the evidence before you shows that this man James Irwin, in robbing his creditors, has not shown even the common honesty of the highwayman, much less his courage, for the highwayman in taking spoil does it at the risk of his life, while he was never known to stoop so low as to rob the poor." Here Mr. Prentiss made a deep pause, and, as if reflecting on the severity of the language he had used, he turned from the jury and thus addressed the court: "May it please the court, on reflection, I deem it my duty, in presence of this vast assemblage, to tender an apology for the language I have just permitted to escape from my lips [profound sensation]; for in the olden days of chivalry, when knight errantry prevailed, there was a nobility, a generosity and magnanimity in the soul of the chivalrous highwayman never possessed by the defendant in this case." The court and counsel for the defendant looked confounded, while a burst of irrepressible applause broke forth from the audience. Mr. Prentiss continued: "I, therefore, feel compelled to do justice to the memory of the knightly honor of the highwayman for having connected his name with that of a man so degraded and disgraced, and make my apology to the court for the wrong I have committed." Then, turning to the jury he said: "A more fitting and appropriate comparison, gentlemen, would be to associate the name of James Irwin with that of the stealthy, light-fingered pick-pocket, who robs you while not knowing that you are robbed." The effect was blasting and painfully withering, and one which no effort of the genius and eloquence of Randall Hunt could obliterate. Prentiss had skinned the alligator!

The result was that young Henry Clay Irwin, the oldest son of Mr. Irwin, a high toned and spirited young man, only twenty-two years old, sent by the hands of his second, Mr. Robert Johnson, of Kentucky, a peremptory challenge to Prentiss. The friends of Mr. Prentiss, Balie Peyton, then United States district attorney, and the late Alex. C. Bullitt, editor of the Picayune, advised him to decline the challenge on the ground that he was not responsible for language used professionally, and that Mr. James Irwin only had the right to demand satisfaction, which was done to save Irwin, as they felt the duel would prove fatal to him. But Prentiss said the challenge stated that young Irwin's father was unable to attend to such matters, and if he declined it would only lead to a street fight. That he admired the spirit of the gallant boy, and appreciating his noble feelings, and there being no alternate he was compelled to give him satisfaction. The challenge was consequently accepted, and time given to Mr. Prentiss to arrange his affairs. In the meantime, General Huston was called in consultation. He advised that if it was possible to effect a reconciliation, it should be done as the result in any alternate would prove fatally disastrous to the families of both parties, the aunt of young Irwin being the wife of John Bell, of Tennessee, who was the great friend of Prentiss. General Huston suggested that B. G. Harney and G. F. Moise be selected to act as umpires, and accompany the parties to the grounds. The principals and seconds met at Pass Christian in February, 1848. The weapons chosen were pistols at ten paces. It was then proposed to Mr. Irwin's seconds that Harney and Moise be called in as umpires before the principals were placed, which was finally agreed to, subject to be accepted or rejected. After consultation, Harney and Moise drew up the following:

"The difficulty between Mr. Irwin and Mr. Prentiss having been referred to us by their respective friends, we are of the opinion that Mr. Prentiss traveled out of record in the use of the offensive expression complained of, which it is therefore the duty of Prentiss cheerfully, frankly and fully to retract."

This was accepted by the friends of the combatants, and Prentiss accordingly, with his characteristic cordial and magnanimous feelings, made the amende honorable, to the great joy of the friends and families of both parties. For several days, however, telegraphic rumors filled the country that a hostile meeting had taken place, and that Prentiss was killed. Mr. Clay afterward wrote Prentiss a letter of thanks and gratitude for his noble conduct.

The sequel to this happy reconciliation finally ended in a terrible tragedy. Young Irwin being of a sensitive, hightoned nature, could not easily banish from his mind the stain that he conceived had been fixed upon his father's honor. Notwithstanding the full retraction that Prentiss had made, with expressions of the deepest regret, and besides writing a note to Robert Johnson honoring and appreciating the gallantry of young Irwin, and again making the most generous concessions, young Irwin writhed under the sting of condemnation which he felt public opinion had pronounced against his father. In vain he struggled to free himself from this hideous phantom which haunted him day and night. Resorting to dissipation to drive away its memories, he indulged to excess, and in his delirium after being up all night, he retired to his room at the St. Charles hotel, about 4 o'clock in the morning, when soon after a pistol shot was heard, and the proud spirit of young Henry Clay Irwin was found to have taken its flight to another world.

SELECT LIST OF LOCAL NEWSPAPERS!

Many persons suppose this list to be composed of CHEAP, low-priced newspapers. The fact is quite otherwise. The Catalogue states exactly what the papers are. When the name of a paper is printed in FULL FACE TYPE it is in every instance the BEST paper in the place. When printed in CAPITALS it is the ONLY paper in the place. When printed in roman letters it is neither the best nor the only paper, but is usually a very good one, notwithstanding. The list gives the population of every town and the circulation of every paper. IT IS NOT A CO-OPERATIVE LIST. IT IS NOT A CHEAP LIST. At the foot of the Catalogue for each State the important towns which are not covered by the list are enumerated. IT IS AN HONEST LIST. The rates charged for advertising are barely one-fifth the publishers' schedule. The price for one inch four weeks in the entire list is $635. The regular rates of the papers for the same space and time are $3,136 35. The list includes 970 newspapers, of which 163 are issued DAILY and 807 WEEKLY. They are located in 825 different cities and towns, of which 22 are State Capitals, 328 places of over 5,000 population, and 444 County Seats. LISTS SENT ON APPLICATION. Address GEO. P. THE GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

BRIEFLETS.

—More heat.

—All Saints' day.

—To-morrow is All Souls' day.

—E. T. Foote, the clothier, will have something to say to the Gazette readers to-morrow.

—Guiteau "the eloquent, etc.," tried to lecture in Beloit Wednesday evening but had not a listener.

—Remember the meeting to-night to discuss water-works. The Common Council rooms at 7 o'clock.

—The public installation of the Temple of Honor officers has been postponed until next Friday evening.

—Hon. J. B. Cassoday spoke to a large audience at Cooksville last evening, and held their attention closely for over two hours.

—To-day being All Saints' Day appropriate services were held in the Catholic and Episopalian churches in accordance with the announcements published in the Gazette several days ago.

—Mr. George K. Steele, the popular and enterprising advance agent of Burr Robbins' great show, left this morning for his home in Moundsville, West Virginia, where he will spend the winter.

—Messrs. Hamilton Richardson and E. M. Hyzer spoke at Shopiere, last night, to a large audience who were duly enthusiastic, and who appreciated the strong points made by these able speakers.

—Chief Engineer Young desires to extend the thanks of the Fire Department, through the Gazette, to Ald. H. D. McKinney and Messrs. Rogers & Hutchinson, for hot coffee and oysters furnished after the fire last night.

—Messrs. Ed. McKey and Joe Bostwick, who were appointed to appraise the damage done by fire, to the dry goods stock of Cairns Bros., have placed the damage at $500. Besides this Cairns Bros, claim $200 damage for toys and trinkets.

—The sad tidings reach here from Newark Valley, New York, of the death of Mrs. Holmes Barrett, formerly of Janesville, and the mother of O. F. Nowlan, Esq., of this city. Her health has been poor for some time and not long ago Mr. Nowlan went East to visit her. He was unable to reach there in time for the funeral.

—A private letter received from Brussels says that a painting by Mrs. Hart, a lady well-known in Janesville, has been given a place in the triennial exposition of modern Belgian art. This is no empty honor, but is considered there a very high tribute to any artist. Mrs. Hart has proved very successful in her art studies and her many friends here will be glad to learn of the honor thus given her.

—Last night Frank C. Thompson, died at his home in this city. Mr. Thompson leaves a wife and four children who will receives the sympathies of many friends. He served his country with faithfulness during the war, having been a member of the Thirteenth regiment. For several years he has acted as sexton of the First Methodist church, and the funeral services will be held there to-morrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He has been in poor health for a long time, though able to be upon the streets until about two weeks ago. A post mortem held to-day revealed the fact that black caneer caused his death.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 32 degrees above and at 2 o'clock this afternoon at 50 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 32 and 48 degrees above.

The indications to-day are, for the upper lake region, upper Mississippi and lower Missouri valleys, warmer, clear or partly cloudy weather, southerly winds, falling barometer, possibly followed in the west portions by rising barometer and colder northwest winds.

SENTENCED FOR LIFE.

Fred Ohms, Jr., Sentenced for the Murder of His Father—An Appeal to the Supreme Court.

Yesterday at Monroe the motion for a new trial in the case of Fred Ohms, Jr., found guilty of the murder of his father, was overruled by Judge Cothren, and sentence was pronounced upon him, the penalty being imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. Young Ohms took his sentence with little or no display of emotion. His hopes are doubtless buoyed up by the fact that an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court by Messrs. Dunwiddie and Douglas who have acted as his counsel during the trial.

THE REASONS WHY.

In another column Messrs. A. and F. Sonneborn, of the Star Clothing House, give several reasons for asserting that they can and will sell goods lower than ever. They are doing a lively business, and are furnishing their customers good clothing at low prices. It is time that all should be prepared for winter, and those contemplating making purchases should examine the stock and prices offered by the Sonneborns. Their clothing is well made and stylish, and their stock embraces a large variety so that no customers need turn away dissatisfied. In gents' furnishing goods they also have a fine stock of everything needed dress well. At the present prices it is no wonder that customers throng the star clothing house.

A WESTERN BISHOP.

Bishop Ozi W. Whittaker, of the Episcopal church, and a cousin of Frank Whittaker, of this city, has met with some strange experiences in the far West, which are thus narrated by an Eastern paper:

"Bishop Whittaker, of Virginia City, Nevada, tells some queer stories of his experiences in a recent tour through the towns of Tybo and Ward, Nevada. At Tybo he could get no building to preach in but a gambling-house, and in response to the Litany, instead of 'Amen,' an excited listener, with his pantaloons stuffed in his boots, cried 'Keno.' At Ward, a horse-race had been announced for the afternoon, but at the bishop's earnest request the racing was postponed till the religious services were over. The whole congregation went from the church to the race-track as soon as the sermon was finished."

ANOTHER BLAZE.

Alderman McKinney's Stable Reduced to Ashes.

Last night shortly after nine o'clock the fire bells rang out an alarm, which was caused by the discovery of smoke and flames issuing from the barn of Alderman H. D. McKinney. The Fire Department were promptly on hand, and did all that was possible to squelch the blaze, but as is usual in such cases, the inflammable nature of the barn and contents proved too great for any amount of water to extinguish, and the barn was reduced to the ground. It was a good frame building and was valued at $1,200. It was insured for $800 in the Home Insurance Company, of New York. The contents of the barn were mostly saved, but the hay and grain, several sleighs, a skeleton wagon, a two-seated buggy and some other valuables were destroyed. Some of Mr. McKinney's horses were out in the country, and "Old Mack" who was in the barn was saved. One vehicle was fortunately in a shop for repairs. The loss on the contents of the barn will reach several hundred dollars but was covered by $1900 in the Home Insurance Company, of which Dimock & Hayner are the agents.

The cause of the fire is not known. Mr. McKinney says that he was last in the barn about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and that no one to his knowledge had been in the barn after that until the fire broke out. It is suggested that the barn was set on fire, and there seems no other explanation which solves the mystery, and even that is not substantiated by any marked proof.

A rough looking man was seen by several parties, last night, prowling around in that vicinity, and even in the yard of Mr. McKinney. One man noticing him watched him, and as soon as the stranger noticed this he took to his heels and ran away. Whether this man had any connection with the blaze, remains to be proved.

CONCERT AND SOCIAL.

There was a goodly sized audience at Lappin's Hall, last evening, at the entertainment given by the choir society of St. Patrick's church. Mr. F. Quinn introduced the various participants, in accordance with a well arranged programme, which opened with a duet by Miss Kate Sullivan and Mr. Frank Finsterbach, entitled, "The Two Fishermen." Mr. Finsterbach sang a bass solo, "A Free Lance Am I." Miss Nellie Hickey sang, "We'd Better Bide a Wee." Miss Ellen Belden and Miss Kate Dixon rendered a duet, "See the Pale Moon." Miss Sullivan favored the audience with another solo. "Kathie Morris" was given by Miss Kate Dixon. Mr. Finsterbach gave as a solo "A Warrior Bold," which concluded the programme. Mrs. M. D. Jones served acceptably as accompanist during the evening. The entertainment was highly appreciated by the audience, and reflected great credit on all who participated.

A social hop in Apollo followed the concert, and this also was participated in by many. Johnny Hogan acted as floor manager and the arrangements were such that there was nothing lacking to make the enjoyment complete. Tuckwood's band furnished the music and all went merrily.

WILCOX VS. BATES.

The following is the syllabus of the opinion of the Supreme Court in the case of Wilcox vs. Bates and others:

1. The general rule is, that trustees in possession are chargeable with actual receipts only, except upon proof of fraud or negligence on their part; and the rule is applicable to the facts established in this case. 26 Wis., 465.

2. An objection to evidence on a trial by referee, may be taken advantage of in the circuit court (without excepting to the referee's report) on a motion by the other side to modify the report on a point involving the admissibility of such evidence; and where the party objecting to such evidence except to a finding of the court based upon it, this saves the objection on appeal.

3. Defendants are adjudged in this case to have held certain premises as trustees for the plaintiff; and the complaint alleges the value of the use and occupation at a certain sum per annum; while the answer alleges that such value was a certain less sum per annum. Held, that the issue was immaterial, and defendants are not stopped from objecting to the rental value as the measure of damages.

THE REVISED STATUTES.

Register Valentine received yesterday twenty-five copies of the newly revised statutes, and to-day the justices' courts commenced work under them. There have been some changes in the practice in these courts. Any one calling for a jury now has to put up $3 in cash to pay for one day's service. Witnesses are now allowed 75 for a day's attendance and 50 cents for half a day. Another change which goes into effect to-day is the abolishing of the former practice of letting prisoners "swear out" of jail when unable to pay their fine. On and after to-day the justice will fix upon a certain number of days imprisonment, not to exceed six months, which must be served in case the fine is not paid. Many other changes are made but these will prove of particular interest to all concerned.

SUNDAY EVENING LECTURES.

Rev. T. P. Sawin, pastor of the First Congregational church, is preparing a course of lectures of practical character on themes pertaining to the present time, his leading subject being "The Relation of Religion to Social Statics." The first of these lectures will be delivered next Sunday evening.

WATER WORKS.

The citizens of Janesville are requested to meet at the Council chamber on Friday November 1st, 1878, at 7 o'clock p. m., to consider proposals for constructing water works in this city.

By order of the Common Council,
J. M. BURGESS
City Clerk.

BLOODY WRECKERS.

Yesterday afternoon about two o'clock a bold attempt was made by three tramps to ditch a train on the Northwestern road, just beyond the State line, between Beloit and Roscoe. A man named Crosby discovered them tearing up the track, and expressed to them his determination to flag the coming train. This angered them so that they attacked him, stabbing him in the arm, and severely bruising his head and face by blows from some heavy instrument. They left him lying insensible on the track, and decamped, leaving one rail torn up. Crosby came to himself in time to flag the train, and prevent any such disaster as the tramps had hoped for. His injuries are quite severe and he is now confined to his bed. He has once before served the railroad company a good service. Last spring he discovered the bridge near Roscoe to be on fire, and flagged the train in time to prevent any accident. The tramps are supposed to belong to the same gang which has been hanging around just south of Beloit for some weeks. No arrests have been made, though a liberal reward is offered by the railroad company for the capture of any of the villains.

Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

To Prevent and Cure Coughs and Colds

A reliable remedy is necessary in every household. Parker's Ginger Tonic is just the medicine needed. It radically cures Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, and even Consumption, if used in time, by its powerful specific action on Stomach, Kidneys, Skin, Liver, and mucous surfaces of the Throat and Lungs. In this natural way it cleanses the waste matters from the blood, builds up the tissues, fortifies the system against further attacks, and permanently allays inflammations of the Throat, Lungs, and other organs. It is a powerful invigorant, and affords just the help that the aged, the feeble, and the convalescent require, because it ensures perfect digestion and enjoyment of the food, enriches the blood, and arouses the dormant energies of the debilitated organs. It cures Dyspepsia, with its varied symptoms of Headache, Wakefulness, Sour Stomach, Bad Taste in the mouth, Constipation, Liver Complaint, Palpitation of the Heart, etc, and while it never intoxicates nor creates any desire for stimulants, it diffuses warmth and vigor through the system, renews the appetite, soothes the nerves, banishes melancholy, and gives strength and elasticity to the worn out frame. Buy a $1.00 bottle from your druggist, A. J. Robert's, Janesville, Wis., or a sample bottle at 15 cents, and test its extraordinary merits.

If Baldness or a Deficiency of Hair

Exists, or if the hair is gray, dry or harsh, the natural youthful color can be restored by using "London Hair Color Restorer," the most delightful article ever introduced to the American people for increasing its growth, restoring its natural color, and at the same time a lovely hair dressing and beautifier. It is totally different from all others; not sticky or gummy, and free from all impure ingredients that render many other articles obnoxious; in fact it is exquisitely perfumed and so cleanly and elegantly prepared as to make it a lasting hair dressing and toilet luxury.

J A TYNES, A PROMINENT CITIZEN, Wilson, N. C., writes: Some ten years ago my wife's hair commenced falling, and got very thin and turned gray; but after using "London Hair Color Restorer" the scalp became healthy, the hair stopped falling, the color was restored, and is now growing beautifully.

Ask your druggist for London Hair Color Restorer. Price, 75 cents a bottle. Six bottles, $4. Main Depot for the U. S., 330 North Sixth St, Philadelphia. jy29deodwly,-1

CIRCUIT COURT ROCK COUNTY.—Randall Williams plaintiff, against Samuel A. Baldwin, Maria L. Baldwin, his wife, Cuy Carter, and Isaac Parker defendants.

By virtue and in pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale entered in the above entitled action, in the Circuit Court for Rock county, on the 18th day of December, A D. 1877, in favor of the above named plaintiff and against the above named defendants, I shall offer for sale and sell to the highest bidder, at the front door of the post office, in the city of Janesville, in said Rock county,

On Thursday, December, 19th, A D, 1878, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the following described premises lying and being in the city of Janesville, in said county of Rock and State of Wisconsin, and distinguished as follows to-wit: As a parcel of land having forty-four [44] feet front on Franklin street, and being of the uniform width of forty-four [44] feet, and being of the depth of one hundred and thirty-two and one-half feet, [132½] and extending from Franklin street to a parcel of land marked on Church and Williams' subdivision of Smith, Bailey & Stone's addition to Janesville, as recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Rock county, Wisconsin, on the 25th day of May 1870, as "open area." Said parcel of land so conveyed or intended to be conveyed is bounded on the north by land marked on said plat "W Henderson," and on the south by an alley ten [10] feet in width, extending from Franklin street to the said "open area." Also the right of way over said alley in common with said party of the first part in a deed executed by said plaintiff, Randall Williams and wife, to said defendant, S A Baldwin, as set forth in said deed, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to satisfy said judgment and interests and costs of sale as may be sold separately without material injury to the parties in interest.—Dated Oct. 30, 1878.

A. & F. SONNEBORN,

AT THEIR

Clothing Establishment!

IN THE

Myers House Block

Are Now Selling

Goods Lower Than Ever!

And at prices which fill their competitors with astonishment and dismay. Hence the boasting advertisements of opposition houses filled with extravagant promises, which they do not and cannot fulfill. They, as well as the public, recognize the superior advantages possessed by the

STAR CLOTHING HOUSE!

That this firm can defy all competition is evident for the following reasons: First, they purchase for Cash, a fact which without comment largely explains their success. Second. Being Cash purchasers they are not compelled to buy from Chicago or other local establishments but can deal with any house, in any part of the world; hence they always buy in the lowest market. Third. They sell for Cash, or on short credit, and their books are not loaded with poor debts, such as the cash patron must always make good else failure ensues. Fourth. Being the only wholesale dealers in Rock county, they would naturally have fewer old goods than their neighbors, and the truth is that their entire stock has been manufactured during the past season, while other houses have their basements filled with old unsalable and unservicable goods, which they of necessity endeavor to pass off upon the unsuspecting and unexperienced. Fifth. This firm carries no sectarianism into its business, having but one price for their customers, whatever their race or religion. Sixth. None of their goods are shoddy, which is evident from the fact that those who become customers seldom if ever go elsewhere. Each article is warranted and satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. That this house, is in every respect as above represented will become evident to any fair minded person, who will examine goods and prices. Gentlemanly salesmen are always in attendance, who will gladly show goods to all comers whether they desire to become purchasers or not. Let the STAR CLOTHING HOUSE continue as heretofore to have the lion's share of the public patronage.
